Small 12mo, elegantly printed, cloth, with embossed design on cover, price 2s. Uniform with "Where Love is, there God is also."

Tolstoy's Parables. By COUNT LEO TOLSTOY. Illustrated with Two Drawings by H. R. MILLAR.

This volume contains "Ivan the Fool," which, regarded as a mere story, is of the most captivating description; it is at the same time a parable in which Count Tolstoy enforces his most characteristic teaching. The "Three Parables" which follow are fresh from the pen of Count Tolstoy; they were published lately in a semi-private Russian journal, managed by Russian men of letters. These Parables constitute rejoinders to recent criticism to Tolstoy's doctrines.

The International Critical Commentary on the Old and New Testaments.

Edited by Profs. S. R. DRIVER, A. PLUMMER, and C. A. BRIGGS.

The British Weekly says: "The publication of this series marks an epoch in English exegesis."

The Methodist Times says: "The series seems likely to surpass all previous enterprises of the kind in Great Britain and America."

The following Volumes are now ready in post 8vo, price 12s. each.

DEUTERONOMY.

By Prof. S. R. DRIVER, D.D., Oxford.

"If the subsequent volumes of the series come up to the standard of excellence set in this work, the series will supply a real want in our literature. . . . The introduction is a masterly piece of work, and here the Oxford Professor of Hebrew is at his best. It gives by far the best and fairest discussion that we have ever seen of the critical problems connected with the book."—Guardian.

"A most lucid and scholarly treatment of Deuteronomy. . . . It will be found extremely interesting not only to students and ministers, for whom its assistance will be invaluable, but also to every conscientious reader of the Scriptures."—Daily Chronicle.

ROMANS.

By Prof. W. SANDAY, D.D., LL.D., Canon of Christ Church, Oxford, and the Rev. A. C. HEADLAM, B.D., Oxford.

"This commentary is a worthy commencement of the New Testament International Series, and it will be surprising if it does not at once take its place as the standard commentary on the Epistle to the Romans."—Scotsman.

JUDGES.

Retracings: A Personal and a Family Record. By CATHERINE JACSON. With six Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth boards, 6s. nett.

The present volume pictures, with quiet realism, the history of an English country family, closely connected with the great Sir Robert Peel, tracing its career from the early days of the century down to the present time. The faithfulness of the drawing renders this a valuable representation of a phase of English life which, in the rush of modern existence, is rapidly passing away.

STEADILY INCREASING!

GREAT PRIZE COUPON SCHEME.

Every Competitor gains a Prize.

First Prize - £1,000 in Money.
Second ,, - £500 ,,
Third ,, - £100 ,,

And 37 other large Money Prizes.

HOW TO GAIN A PRIZE.

It is suggested that readers should form themselves into Associations for the collection of coupons. For example, readers in schools, in business houses, in workshops, in public works, in banks in mercantile offices, in clubs, in any associations in cities, towns, villages, and country parishes, should band together and make arrangements for the regular and systematic collection of coupons. In this way everyone may take a part and receive something. Even if the prizes are not gained, the price of the coupons will be paid. It is easy to see that in this way a few readers, by combination, may collect a very large number of coupons.

FOURTH THOUSAND.

The Historical Geography of the Holy Land.

By Rev. Prof. GEORGE ADAM SMITH, D.D., Professor of Hebrew and Old Testament Exegesis, Free Church College, Glasgow.

With Six Maps, specially prepared. 8vo, cloth, 15s.

The SCOTSMAN says:—

"Professor Smith is well equipped at all points for this work. He is abreast of the latest findings of Scripture exegesis, and of geographical survey, and of archæological exploration; and he has himself travelled widely over Palestine. The value of the work is incalculably increased by the series of geographical maps. The first of the kind representing the whole lift and lie of the land by gradations of colour."

The DAILY NEWS says:—

"In English, at least, there is no book from which the reader can carry away in his mind's eye so clear, connected, and permanent a picture of Palestine as from Dr. Smith's."

The ACADEMY says:—

"There is not a dull or unprofitable page from the beginning to the end of the volume."

The GUARDIAN says:—

"The book collects together and estimates in a thorough and sure way all the results of research; it is written with full critical and historical knowledge; it describes the physical features in a vivid and clear manner."

The TIMES says:—

"A very noteworthy contribution to the study of sacred history, based upon the three indispensable conditions of personal acquaintance with the land, a study of the explorations, discoveries, and decipherments, . . . and the employment of the results of Biblical criticism."

London: HODDER & STOUGHTON, 27, Paternoster Row.

A History of Philosophy.

From Thales to the Present Time.

By Dr. FRIEDRICH UEBERWEG, late Professor of Philosophy in the University of Konigsberg.

COMPLETE IN TWO VOLUMES.

Vol. I. Ancient and Mediæval Philosophy. Fourth Edition. Royal 8vo, cloth, 18s.

Vol. II. Modern Philosophy. Fourth Edition. Royal 8vo, cloth, 21s.

"It combines in an unusual degree the three qualities of accuracy, clearness, and conciseness, and is therefore peculiarly adapted for the use of students."—ATHENÆUM.

"It may be recommended to students of philosophy with all confidence as an admirable text-book."—WESTMINSTER REVIEW.

"It is one of that class of books which, the more it is known, the more it is valued. For certain purposes—such, for instance, as preparing students for examinations—it is admirably adapted, better, perhaps, than any other work of the kind."—SPECTATOR.

London: HODDER & STOUGHTON, 27, Paternoster Row.

Sixth Edition. 8vo, cloth, 12s.

1. Christ in Modern Theology.

By A. M. FAIRBAIRN, D.D.,

Principal of Mansfield College, Oxford.

"His work is, without doubt, one of the most valuable and comprehensive contributions to theology that has been made during this generation."—THE SPECTATOR.

"A more vivid summary of Church history has never been given. With its swift characterisation of schools and politics, with its subtle tracings of the development of various tendencies through the influence of their environment, of re-action, and of polemic; with its contrasts of different systems, philosophies, and races; with its portraits of men; with its sense of progress and revolt—this part of Dr. Fairbairn's book is no mere annal, but drama, vivid and full of motion, representative of the volume and sweep of Christianity through the centuries."—SPEAKER.

Tenth Thousand. Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

2. Religion in History and in Modern Life;

Together with an Essay on the Church and the Working Classes.

"One of the finest extant specimens of a historical argument for Christianity."—WESTMINSTER GAZETTE.

"A timely and weighty contribution to a subject which theologians but too seldom venture to grapple with."—SCOTSMAN.

London: HODDER & STOUGHTON, 27, Paternoster Row.

THE WARWICK LIBRARY.

Comparative Manuals of English Literature.

In crown 8vo Volumes, cloth, 3s. 6d. each.

General Editor—Professor C. H. HERFORD, Litt.D.

English literature has hitherto been studied, for the most part, either in histories of entire epochs or in the works of particular writers. The present series is intended to facilitate that "comparative" method which brings into relation a series of writings of the same class, and which, while indispensable for the methodic study of literary history, adds fresh and often unsuspected sources of fascination to literature itself. Each volume will deal with the development in English literature of some special literary form, which will be illustrated by a series of representative specimens, slightly annotated, and preceded by a critical and analytical introduction.

The Australasian Colonies, from Their Foundation to the Year 1893. By E. JENKS, M.A., Fellow of King's College, Cambridge, and Professor of Law in University College, Liverpool, late Dean of the Faculty of Law in Melbourne University. With Maps. Crown 8vo, 6s.

"Mr. Jenks's little volume is compact, well arranged, and written in an excellent style; while the facts of Australasian history have been gathered and stated in a way that, generally speaking, appears to be very complete and impartial."—Times.

The Early Renaissance in England: The Rede Lecture delivered in the Senate House on June 13th, 1895, by MANDELL CREIGHTON, D.D., Lord Bishop of Peterborough. Crown 8vo, cloth, 2s.; paper covers, 1s.

THE PITT PRESS SHAKESPEARE FOR SCHOOLS.

"Mr. Verity presents us with another of his admirable school editions of Shakespeare's plays. . . . We have already had 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' and 'Twelfth Night,' both praised highly in these columns; now we have 'Julius Cæsar,' and we can only say that it is as good and deserves as much praise as its predecessors. As we said of them we may say of this book, that in both notes and introduction Mr. Verity displays sound scholarship and learning, while he never forgets that he is writing for boys."—Guardian.
